语音转文字

The image shows two side-by-side screenshots of a mobile phone's keyboard interface, illustrating the process of transcribing spoken words into text.

Screenshot 1: The screen displays the text "Good morning" with a microphone icon below it. The keyboard is visible at the bottom, showing standard QWERTY layout keys. The status bar indicates the time is 16:59, signal strength, 5G connectivity, and battery level.

Screenshot 2: The screen shows the same text "Good morning". Above the keyboard, a list of suggested words is displayed: "morning", "my", and "me". The keyboard layout is identical to the first screenshot.

Both screenshots include standard iOS-style icons for back, refresh, and other functions at the top.

The image displays three screenshots of a mobile application interface, likely from the Meta app (formerly Facebook), illustrating the process of managing notifications.

Chats Screen (Left): Shows the main navigation bar with tabs for Updates, Calls, Communities, Chats (with a notification badge of 4), and Settings. The Chats tab is selected. Below the tabs, there's a search bar with the placeholder "Ask Meta AI or search".

Settings Screen (Middle): Shows the "Settings" screen with a search bar at the top. Below it are several settings sections:

- Avatar: Includes options for Broadcast lists, Starred messages, and Linked devices.
- Account: Includes options for Privacy and Chats.
- Notifications: This section is highlighted with a red box and has a notification badge of 2.
- Storage and data: Includes options for Updates, Calls, Communities, Chats (with a notification badge of 4), and Settings.

Notifications Screen (Right): Shows the "Notifications" settings screen. It includes sections for MESSAGE NOTIFICATIONS, GROUP NOTIFICATIONS, and In-app notifications. Each section has toggle switches for "Show notifications", "Sound", and "Reaction notifications", all of which are turned on (green). A "Show preview" toggle switch is also present, which is also turned on (green).

The image displays three screenshots of the WhatsApp mobile application interface, highlighting the 'Updates' tab and various status features.

Screenshot 1: Updates Tab

Screenshot 2: My status - Add to my status

Screenshot 3: Status Input Screen
